

STEPHAN KLOOS

---

Stephan Kloos holds a PhD in medical anthropology (UC San Francisco & Berkeley 2010), and is the principal investigator of the ERC Starting Grant project RATIMED (Reassembling Tibetan Medicine). He holds a senior researcher position at the Institute for Social Anthropology at the Austrian Academy of Sciences. For over 15 years, he has explored the history and development of Tibetan medicine in India, and more recently also Mongolian medicine and the emerging transnational Sowa Rigpa industry. His work is published in a book and numerous academic articles and book chapters, and has been widely covered by national and international media. For more information and open access to his publications, see ratimed.net.