

Dr. Ngawang Soepa Bhutia completed his degree with first distinction in Menpa Kachupa (BSRMS - Bachelor of Sowa Rigpa Medicine and Surgery) in the year 2008 from Men-Tsee-Khang College. In the following seven years, he served as the consultant physician and Chief Medical Officer in the several branch clinics of the institute. From 2006-2013, he served as the Deputy Head in the Pharmaceutical Department taking charge of the medicinal raw material procurement, manufacture of drugs, and other medicinal processing methods. During 2013-2015, he worked in the Documentation and Publication Department while also serving as the executive member representing Men-Tsee-Khang, as well as Chairman of the 4th Central Council of Tibetan Medicine (CCTM). Besides, he is a member of the disease prevention committee, and involved in its activities primarily to educate the public on preventive healthcare. On both official and personal undertaking, he has been to various countries in Europe, and USA to conduct health consultations and lectures. Presently, Dr. Ngawang Soepa is Principal and medical lecturer at the Men-Tsee-Khang College.
